

REVISED

STATEMENT OF PURPOSE

RS27404C1 / S1239

This bill encourages parents to be involved in their elementary child's education and partner with public school teachers. If an elementary school student can get one year ahead in their academic studies, the parents can negotiate a flexible attendance schedule to supplement the public school curriculum and for other family activities. The bill has a mechanism so schools will not lose funding, how to determine if the child is advanced, and makes the program optional to parents and schools.

FISCAL NOTE

There is not a fiscal cost to the education budget or to school districts.
