

STATEMENT OF PURPOSE

RS28086 / H0071

The current law, as it stands, is confusing for suppliers. The law permits suppliers to donate packaged liquor for promotional purposes, however, the recipients of the donated liquor are not allowed to sell that liquor in any fashion, including raffles or silent auctions. Many suppliers would like to support these causes in a meaningful way, and ABC and the ISLD do spend considerable time addressing these inquiries and explaining the nuances of the law and the reasons charities cannot use the donated product to raise money.

FISCAL NOTE

A small positive financial impact would be realized by virtue of selling permits for the right to auction or raffle donated liquor products. Proposed permit would be $50/event and could result in up to $10,000 per year collected by the State. These monies would be used to offset incremental administrative expense incurred by ABC in the issuance of permits.
