S 1309: Rep. Harris presented S 1309 which is an amendment of the fetal heartbeat bill. It prohibits abortions after a fetal heartbeat is detected. This legislation includes a private enforcement mechanism allowing civil lawsuits against medical professionals who perform unlawful abortions after a fetal heartbeat can be detected. Family members who are "harmed" by the abortion of an immediate family member, can be compensated $20,000.

S 1358:

Blaine Konzatti, President of Idaho Family Policy Center, testified in support of the bill. He stated that S 1309 adds a private enforcement mechanism to the heart beat law that was signed last year, and it is modeled after the Texas heartbeat bill. He also stated that it does not create civil liability for those that aid in an unlawful abortion, and it restricts civil liability to the abortionist who committed the crime. He stated that life does not begin at the first sign of a heartbeat but it begins at conception, and deserves legal protection, and that a detected heartbeat is a reliable indicator that life exists.

Saumya Sarin, Vanessa Rosenbaum, Nydia MacDonald, Chelsea Gaona Lincoln, Scott Watson, Sophia Drigg, Amber Olah, Jo Smith, Lindsay Van Allen, Mistie DelliCarpini-Tolman all testified in opposition to the bill.
