

STATEMENT OF PURPOSE

RS18232C1

Since 1939, the chief executive officer of the Idaho State Liquor Dispensary (ISLD) has had the title of Superintendent of the Idaho State Liquor Dispensary. This is an antiquated title and no other equivalent position has this title in any of the eighteen control states in the nation. This legislation would change the title of the chief executive officer for the Idaho State Liquor Dispensary from Superintendent to Director.

Further, the use of the word Dispensary in the name of the agency is also antiquated. This legislation would change the title of the agency from the Idaho State Liquor Dispensary to the Idaho State Liquor Division to be more consistent with other divisions within the Executive Office of the Governor.

FISCAL NOTE

There would likely be limited costs for one-time changes to ISLD printed materials, publications, rules, stationary, and forms that contain old title references.
