Idaho Central Credit Union is partnering with Stukent to provide a grant for ALL high schools in the state of Idaho to receive Stukent’s Mimic Personal Finance Simulation and Curriculum FREE for five years. This provides high school students all over the state the opportunity to acquire personal financial skills using state-of-the-art technology and decision-learning theory. Participating high schools will also have the opportunity to have ICCU visit their school once a year to receive hands-on financial training.

Only a few states have made personal finance courses a graduation requirement in their high schools. While Idaho offers personal finance as a unit in economics courses, personal finance education is not currently a graduation requirement. ICCU’s partnership with Stukent will help make Idaho a leader in personal finance education.

The Mimic Personal Finance simulation gives students hands-on experience in personal finance and decision-making. It creates an environment where students’ choices dictate the learning experience. Now every student in the state of Idaho can learn one of the most critical life skills: money management.

Hands-on, Decision-theory Learning

Mimic Personal Finance creates an environment where students' choices dictate the learning experience. Lessons are continually reinforced as each decision students make impacts the remainder of the course. Rather than simply studying financial concepts, students actually experience financial decision-making in an online simulation.

This curriculum helps students analyze their situations, needs, and goals while dealing with real consequences for their choices. As a result, students learn how to make smart financial decisions.
