Motions, Memorials, and Resolutions

HOUSE JOINT MEMORIAL NO. 3
BY BUSINESS COMMITTEE

A JOINT MEMORIAL

TO THE SENATE AND THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE UNITED STATES IN CONGRESS ASSEMBLED AND TO THE CONGRESSIONAL DELEGATION REPRESENTING THE STATE OF IDAHO IN THE CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES.

We, your Memorialists, the House of Representatives and the Senate of the State of Idaho assembled in the First Regular Session of the Sixty-eighth Idaho Legislature, do hereby respectfully represent that:

WHEREAS, Idaho is home to over nine hundred thousand (900,000) business entities, many of which are small businesses that employ over half of all Idahoans; and

WHEREAS, Idaho was recently named the state with the largest small business growth; and

WHEREAS, since 2019 through the Red Tape Reduction Act and other regulatory reforms Idaho has been named the least regulated state in the nation; and

WHEREAS, Idaho's smart and lean regulatory environment has aided unprecedented economic growth; and

WHEREAS, the United States Congress passed the Corporate Transparency Act of 2021, which in part required certain business entities within the United States to disclose all individuals with a beneficial ownership interest no later than January 1, 2025; and

WHEREAS, the Corporate Transparency Act requirements on small businesses add unnecessary and burdensome government regulations and present privacy concerns; and

WHEREAS, on December 3, 2024, in the case of Texas Top Cop Shop, Inc., et al. v. Garland, et al., the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Texas granted a nationwide preliminary injunction for the filing of beneficial ownership interest reports; and

WHEREAS, on December 23, 2024, a motions panel of judges of the United States Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals granted a stay to the district court's injunction, which created a new deadline to file beneficial ownership interest reports of January 13, 2025; and

WHEREAS, on December 26, 2024, a merits panel of judges of the United States Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals vacated the stay of the injunction, and suspended the filing deadlines for reporting beneficial ownership information; and

WHEREAS, on December 31, 2024, the United States Department of Justice appealed the injunction to the United States Supreme Court; and

WHEREAS, these competing court rulings have caused confusion and additional expense to Idaho business owners.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the members of the First Regular Session of the Sixty-eighth Idaho Legislature, the House of Representatives and the Senate concurring therein, that the Idaho Legislature requests and calls upon the President of the United States and the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States to take action with all deliberate speed to repeal the Corporate Transparency Act of 2021 and to relieve Idaho business owners of the onerous reporting requirements contained therein.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives be, and she is hereby authorized and directed to forward a copy of this Memorial to the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives of Congress and to the congressional delegation representing the State of Idaho in the Congress of the United States.

HOUSE JOINT MEMORIAL NO. 4

BY RESOURCES AND CONSERVATION COMMITTEE

A JOINT MEMORIAL

TO THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES, THE SENATE AND THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE UNITED STATES IN CONGRESS ASSEMBLED, THE UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, THE UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, THE UNITED STATES FISH AND WILDLIFE SERVICE, AND THE CONGRESSIONAL DELEGATIONS REPRESENTING THE STATES OF IDAHO, MONTANA, WASHINGTON, AND WYOMING IN THE CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES.

We, your Memorialists, the House of Representatives and the Senate of the State of Idaho assembled in the First Regular Session of the Sixty-eighth Idaho Legislature, do hereby respectfully represent that:

WHEREAS, under the Biden Administration, the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service (USFWS) rejected petitions for delisting grizzly bears from Idaho, Montana, and Wyoming, improperly reaffirming protected status for grizzly bears under the Endangered Species Act (ESA), despite robust grizzly bear populations and in disregard of the ESA's stated purpose, statutory authority, and congressional intent; and

WHEREAS, grizzly bears were listed under the ESA in 1975 only in the lower 48 states, a listing that does not now qualify as a threatened species subject to the ESA's protections; and

WHEREAS, grizzly bear populations have significantly expanded in number and range since the 1975 listing, with estimated numbers now surpassing 60,000 and occupying 60% of the grizzly's historical range in North America, with approximately 2,000 ESA-listed grizzly bears in Idaho, Montana, Washington, and Wyoming; and

WHEREAS, instead of proceeding with delisting in compliance with the ESA, on January 15, 2025, five days before the change in administration, USFWS instead proposed continuation of ESA-protected status for a new distinct population segment (DPS) that begins at the Pacific Ocean, covering all of Washington and extending eastward across most of Idaho and Montana and a portion of Wyoming; and

WHEREAS, this proposed DPS is symbolic of moving goalposts under the ESA, at the expense of actual grizzly bear conservation and the safety, livelihoods, and well-being of local communities, through prolonging ESA restrictions based on unoccupied, expansive "recovery" areas, which have previously been proposed for "nonessential experimental" populations, and undefined "connectivity" zones through unsuitable habitat and populated areas; and

WHEREAS, USFWS continues to discount and ignore the combined efforts over several decades by Idaho's Department of Fish and Game and Office of Species Conservation and their sister state agencies, which have conserved and protected grizzly bears and have played a critical role in the restoration of grizzly populations; and

WHEREAS, the grizzly bear (Ursus arctos horribilis) is a subspecies of the brown bear species (Ursus arctos), and both the species and subspecies are secure and do not warrant protection, with grizzly bears in Alaska and western Canada never being ESA-listed; and

WHEREAS, best available science regarding the biological status of grizzly bears in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem supported delisting proposals by the Bush, Obama, and Trump administrations, with litigation restoring ESA-listed status based on procedural rather than biological grounds; and

WHEREAS, the grizzly bear population in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem of Idaho, Montana, and Wyoming showed steady growth until numbers slowed in the early 2000s, suggesting the region had reached carrying capacity in suitable habitat. Presently, this population remains robust as evidenced by grizzly bears continuing to disperse from millions of square miles of secure habitat to unsuitable habitat resulting in conflict; and

WHEREAS, Idaho, Montana, and Wyoming, along with the National Park Service, have successfully managed the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem grizzly bear population, including the time it was delisted, to maintain a population of grizzly bears that is biologically secure, exceeding USFWS' population goal for "recovery" for nearly 20 years; and

WHEREAS, grizzly bears occupying the United States-Canada transboundary area (including USFWS "recovery areas" for the Northern Continental Divide, Selkirk, and Cabinet-Yaak) number more than an estimated 1,000 in the United States alone, such that they continue to disperse from millions of square miles of secure habitat to unsuitable habitat resulting in conflict; and

WHEREAS, continued grizzly bear conservation, including conflict management and prevention, is best accomplished outside of the ESA framework under state management with respect to conditions specific to individual states; and

WHEREAS, a complete delisting of grizzly bears in the lower 48 states would result in a positive outcome for all states that have or may have grizzly bears within their borders; and

WHEREAS, the expansion of unmanaged populations into unsuitable habitat has led to loss and harm of livestock and domestic animals, as well as harm and death to humans as demonstrated by several bear-to-human conflicts; and

WHEREAS, such expansion into unsuitable habitat poses extreme risks to human safety, private property, and the economic well-being of local communities and will conflict with the traditional uses of land and natural resources in Idaho; and

WHEREAS, unnecessarily prolonging the ESA listing of grizzly bears infringes on private property rights, state public lands management, state and local economies, and community safety.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the members of the First Regular Session of the Sixty-eighth Idaho Legislature, the House of Representatives and the Senate concurring therein, that the Legislature hereby calls upon the Trump administration to achieve the ESA's stated purpose and swiftly delist the grizzly bear to return full management authority of the species back to the states, whose management and stewardship have been instrumental in rebuilding populations under the ESA's constraints.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Legislature calls on Congress and the Trump administration to review the Endangered Species Act, its implementing regulations, and agency policies for effectiveness and legality under the Supreme Court's Loper Bright Enterprises v. Raimondo decision.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives be, and she is hereby authorized and directed to forward a copy of this Memorial to the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives of Congress, the United States Department of the Interior, the United States Department of Agriculture, the United States Fish and Wildlife Service, and the congressional delegations representing the states of Idaho, Montana, Washington, and Wyoming in the Congress of the United States.

HJM 3 and HJM 4 were introduced, read the first time by title, and referred to the Judiciary, Rules, and Administration Committee for printing.
