

STATEMENT OF PURPOSE

RS32131 / S1066

This legislation bolsters identity theft protections with references to all types of Personally Identifiable Information (PII) in keeping with industry standards in data security. It also protects Idaho residents by ensuring that agencies and other entities are responsible for offering victims free credit monitoring and informing them on how to protect themselves if concluding that their information is or is likely being misused.

FISCAL NOTE

This legislation has no calculable fiscal impact, as it does not directly cause any revenue or expenditures at the state or local level. However, if an agency is made responsible for offering 36 months of credit monitoring in the event of a data breach, agency expenses could be $450 per victim, assuming a credit monitoring cost of $150 per year.
